DIGITAL RECONTEXTUALIZATION PRACTICES IN EXPERT KNOWLEDGE COMMUNICATION

INTERGEDI2026 INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

March 18th-20th, 2026
Facultad de Filosofía y Letras
Universidad de Zaragoza (Spain)

Plenary speakers

Elisabetta Adami
(University of Leeds,UK)

Kate Scott
(Kingston University,London, UK)

Focus of our conference

This conference invites contributions that explore the communicative practices through which specialized knowledge is disseminated by experts in and across digitally-mediated contexts. Particular attention is given to proposals which examine the processes of recontextualization involved in adapting specialized knowledge so that it is accessible, understandable and acceptable to multiple audiences. Contributions may approach recontextualization and digital dissemination practices from different theoretical and methodological perspectives: corpus studies, genre analysis, pragmatic approaches, multimodality, ethnography, intercultural communication and contrastive approaches.

Submission guidelines

Abstracts must be submitted as MS Word documents and should be 300-350 words long (references not included). Authors can only submit one proposal.
The abstract should contain the following information:

- Theoretical framework
- Objectives
- Methodology
- Expected/obtained results
- References

Abstract proposals should be formatted as follows:

- Title, centred, bold, Times New Roman 14
- Surname, first name, affiliation, e-mail address, Times New Roman 12
- Main text, justified, Times New Roman 12
- Keywords (3-5), italics, Times New Roman 12
- References (max.5), APA 7th Edition format, Times New Roman 12

The document will be named after the author(s)' surname(s).

Proposals will be sent to intergedi@unizar.es. All proposals will be submitted to a double-blind review process. The allocated time for presentations will be 20 minutes, followed by 10 minutes for discussion.
